"Oh we have another fan with a budding music career! Jed Sheeran is seemingly trying to produce new songs based off of his number one favorite artist... but it doesn't all sound so good. Can you find him?"

Using Google for a quick search to see how much work I need to do as this was a medium challenge.

So we have link already.

I clicked on the song he is presenting and it sounded like a code of sorts. Before I investigate that I have a look around the page. I click on the album cover and it takes me to a write up on his song Beautiful People. This also contains the flag, so no decoding required.
